Allowing use of cell phones during air flights will lead to annoying, invasive intrusions for all passengers. This is a safety issue, as people engrossed in phone conversations ignore safety announcements. If even 20% of the people on a flight choose to use their cell phones, there will be an enormous increase of noise.